For fifty years, Dennis Hill has been a Change Catalyzer™, Tech Tamer™, and integrated solutions architect, influencing over twenty boards and two hundred organizations worldwide. Dr. Hill transforms complex problems into manageable solutions using a polymathic approach to measurement and problem-solving, which he shares with thousands of students and professionals each year.

In addition to presiding as Chair and CEO of the International Association for Human Resource Information Management (IHRIM), Dennis is active in the Society for HR Management and the HR Certification Institute, the Society for Manufacturing Engineers, the Association for Change Management, and a registered Practitioner in the Association for Conflict Resolution.
